Making A Difference In Animals' Lives

MEMO TO: Police Departments, Town/City Councils
FROM: The Potter League for Animals

RE: Introducing the Coyote Info Line (Funded by the Prince Charitable Trust)

The Potter League for Animals, in collaboration with the Narragansett Bay Coyote Study, is pleased to announce the opening of the Coyote Info Line at 401-924-HOWL (4695). This phone line will provide an opportunity for concerned citizens to easily obtain accurate information about the coyotes on Aquidneck and Conanicut Islands.

A knowledgeable, experienced coyote study staff member will man the phone. If individuals are concerned about immediate safety issues, they will be directed to call their local police department.

The intent of the hot line is to educate the community on how to reduce the likelihood of interactions with coyotes. Citizens will be provided with information on discouraging coyotes from visiting their properties. Our goal is to have the public realize the benefit of having coyotes maintain their natural fear of humans. Tracking these calls will enable us to address problems before they escalate.
